

CANADIAN KARTING LEAGUE NEWSLETTER

2010 Schedule now up on www.Canadiankartingleague.com

The 2010 CKL schedule is now up on the CKL website. Members are scheduled to do 10 races during the year to qualify for the championship weekend.

"I think by the number of members we'll be able to run a morning and afternoon event on each of our race days. That means that members can run one or both events on one day," CKL owner Russ Bond said.

CKL KARTS READY TO GO

The CMP race karts for the Canadian Karting League are all ready for action.

Tony Launi of the Innisfil Indy (www.innisfilindy.com) is busy making sure all the karts are ready for action as soon as the track is clear of snow.

The CKL provides helmets for its members, but for those of you who would like to have their own helmet, Launi has some great winter savings on 2009 models.

CKL website gets good traffic!

The Canadian Karting League website www.canadiankartingleague.com has drawn a large amount of attention since being launched, and CKL owner Russ Bond is happy with the response from new members. "We get about five requests for information a day from the site, and this has really helped the membership grow for 2010. I am sure we'll have an exciting year of racing."

IKC and CKL finish mall shows

The Canadian Karting League and the Innisfil Kart Club have finished all their combined mall shows for this year. "I want to thank the IKC club for all their support of the CKL," Russ Bond said.

Mall Driver photos now online

One of the coolest things is to see a kid's smile when they climb in a kart. At the Orillia Mall Show, nearly 100 kids had their photos taken in the Canadian Karting League kart. You can see the
